Liturgical Year Calendar 2026-2027

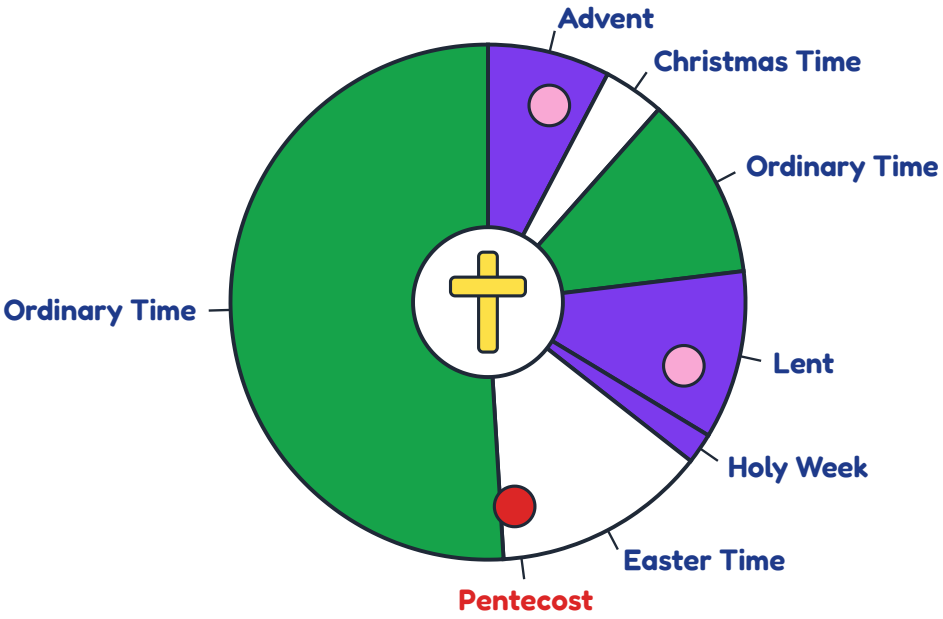

The liturgical year explained to kids: every season, every color, every feast, and every saint, month by month

All Year Long · Ages 4-12

What Is the Liturgical Year?

All year long, the Church celebrates the life of Jesus: his birth, his death and Resurrection, and then the gift of the Holy Spirit. Each season has its own color, which you can see on the vestments the priest wears at Mass.

The liturgical year begins on the First Sunday of Advent, the fourth Sunday before Christmas. Holy Week (with the Sacred Paschal Triduum) and Pentecost are not seasons of their own: Holy Week closes Lent, and Pentecost closes Easter Time. The rose circles mark Gaudete and Laetare Sundays; the red circle marks Pentecost.

- Violet — Advent, Lent, and Holy Week: we get ready and open our hearts to God. During Holy Week, Palm Sunday and Good Friday are red, and Holy Thursday is white.
- White — Christmas Time and Easter Time, and the feasts of Jesus, Mary, and the saints: it's a time of joy!
- Green — Ordinary Time: hope, as we grow with Jesus day after day.
- Red — Pentecost (the feast that closes Easter Time), Palm Sunday, and Good Friday: the love of Jesus, the fire of the Holy Spirit, and the martyrs.
- Rose — Gaudete Sunday (Third Sunday of Advent) and Laetare Sunday (Fourth Sunday of Lent): both names mean "Rejoice!" because Christmas (or Easter) is near.

Each Sunday of Advent, color a candle: the first, second, and fourth violet, and the third rose.
